SAIC Appoints Jeffrey Little to Lead its Army and Navy Business

November 19, 2026

RESTON, Va., Nov. 19, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Science Applications International Corporation (NASDAQ: SAIC), a premier mission integrator advancing the nation's digital transformation across the defense, space, intelligence, and civilian markets, today announced the official appointment of Jeffrey Little as Group President, Army Navy Group (ANG), effective immediately. Reporting to Chief Executive Officer Jim Reagan, Little will lead ANG's strategy and execution, strengthening SAIC's position across the U.S. Army, Navy, and Marine Corps markets, advancing customer missions, and accelerating growth.

"Jeff's deep understanding of warfighter missions, informed by his military service and decades of defense industry leadership, makes him the right person to spearhead our Army Navy Group and a strong addition to our executive leadership team," said Jim Reagan, SAIC Chief Executive Officer. "During his time as interim leader, Jeff has provided steady, decisive leadership, strengthened customer relationships, and maintained momentum across the business. His appointment reflects our confidence in his ability to build on this momentum, advance our strategic priorities, and drive ANG's continued growth and success."

Little served 24 years in the U.S. Navy and brings decades of experience spanning defense operations, business development, technology modernization, and national security. Since joining SAIC in 2019, he has held several leadership positions within ANG, most recently serving as Interim Executive Vice President as well as Senior Vice President of Operations, where he oversaw business execution and aligned the group's markets and functions around enterprise priorities. Prior to SAIC, Little held senior growth and business development leadership positions at Engility Corporation and Raytheon and served as a government civilian with U.S. Fleet Cyber Command and the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations.

"SAIC is well positioned to capitalize on significant opportunities across our markets as we execute our strategy, strengthen our competitive position, and deliver greater value for our customers. Our Group Presidents are central to this effort, accountable for turning strategic priorities into business results, accelerating growth, and delivering innovative, mission-focused solutions to our customers' most critical challenges," said Reagan.
