

SAIC Awarded Approximately $400 Million in Space and Intelligence Community Contracts in Fiscal Year 2023 Second Quarter

August 29, 2022

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Science Applications International Corp. (NYSE: SAIC) received approximately $400 million in national security and space contract awards for the second quarter of fiscal year 2023 in addition to the previously announced $319M Falconer Air Operations Center Weapon System Sustainment contract with the U.S. Air Force. The contract awards consist largely of systems integration and delivery work, new cloud programs and JADC2 efforts.

"As we accelerate the digital transformation of our customers, we are energized by their desire to partner with SAIC on new cloud efforts for space and intelligence agencies," said Michael LaRouche, president National Security and Space Sector at SAIC. "This quarter included revolutionary technical awards that set us apart from our peers in critical areas like digital engineering, multi-cloud and JADC2."

SAIC delivers integrated solutions and systems through mission understanding and transformative technology. Digital engineering, IT modernization and artificial intelligence are core innovation areas within SAIC and are key to advancing our customers' missions.
