

SAIC Selected by U.S. General Services Administration for ASTRO Family of Contracts to Provide a Broad Array of IT Support Services

January 4, 2022

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Science Applications International Corp. (NYSE: SAIC) was awarded prime contract positions on the General Services Administration (GSA) ASTRO multiple-award, indefinite-delivery, indefinite-quantity family of contracts. Managed by GSA's Federal Systems Integration and Management Center (FEDSIM) office, SAIC is one of only six companies awarded all 10 contracts. The award of the GSA ASTRO contracts is an innovative and strategic addition to SAIC's existing portfolio of contract vehicles accessible to customers across the federal government.

Under this potential 10-year, new-business family of contracts, the awards provide contract access for Department of Defense and federal civilian customers to SAIC's technical expertise and experience in providing a broad array of services to support manned, unmanned and optionally manned systems, robotics and platforms.

GSA ASTRO has no defined ceiling value and is a family of 10 separate contracts, or pools, each representing a different scope of work. The pools include data operations, mission operations, aviation, ground, space, maritime, development/systems integration, research, support and training.
