Forward-Looking Statements

This report contains forward-looking statements that are based on management’s belief and assumptions about the future in light of information currently available to the Company’s management. In some cases, forward-looking statements can be identified by words such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expects,” “projects,” “intends,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential,” “continue,” “outlook” and similar words or phrases or the negative of these words or phrases. These statements relate to future events or the Company’s future financial performance, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the Company’s actual results, levels of activity, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Although the Company’s management believes that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable when made, the Company cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements. There are a number of important factors that could cause the Company’s actual results to differ materially from those results anticipated by the forward-looking statements, which include, but are not limited to, the following factors: failure to complete the notes offering, the Acquisition or any related financings within the expected timeframe or at all; difficulties in integrating Unisys Federal’s business with the Company’s business; disruptions in the Company’s and Unisys Federal’s businesses as a result of the announcement and pendency of the Acquisition; liabilities that Unisys Federal may have that are not known, probable or estimable at this time; harm to the Company’s reputation or relationship with U.S. government agencies, which are the Company’s primary customers; a decline in the U.S. government defense budget, changes in spending or budgetary priorities, the failure to approve U.S. government budgets on a timely basis or delays in contracts awards and other procurement activity; failure to comply with a variety of complex procurement rules and regulations; the U.S. government’s adoption of new contract rules and regulations or revision of its procurement practices; unfavorable resolution of reviews, audits and cost adjustments by the U.S. government; the termination, cancellation, modification or curtailment of U.S. government contracts; failure to attract, train, retain and utilize skilled employees and the Company's senior management team; inability to successfully integrate the business of Engility Holdings, Inc. with the Company's business or realize the anticipated benefits of the merger in the expected time frame, or at all; any requirement to take write-downs or write-offs, restructuring and impairment or other charges; limitations on the Company's use of net operating loss carryforwards and other tax attributes to offset future taxable income; an adverse change in the Company's mix of contracts or the Company's failure to accurately estimate and manage costs, time and resources; cyber or other security threats; customer system failures; legal disputes; a violation of legal and regulatory requirements by the Company's employees, subcontractors, agents or business partners; impairment of the Company's goodwill or intangible assets; inability to maintain teaming arrangements and relationships with other contractors and subcontractors; failure to adequately protect the Company's proprietary information and intellectual property rights; and any improper handling or disposal of hazardous substances or dangerous materials.

The Company does not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of the forward-looking statements to reflect events, circumstances, changes in expectations, or the occurrence of unanticipated events after the date of those statements or to conform these statements to actual results.

SAIC Announces Pricing of $400.0 Million in Senior Notes*March 4, 2020

RESTON, Va. — (BUSINESS WIRE) — Science Applications International Corp. (NYSE: SAIC) (“SAIC”), a leading technology integrator providing high-end solutions in engineering, IT and mission solutions across the defense, space, civilian and intelligence markets, announced today that it has priced an offering of $400.0 million aggregate principal amount of 4.875% senior notes due 2028 (the “Notes”). The Notes were priced at par and will be senior unsecured obligations of SAIC. The offering is expected to close on March 13, 2020, subject to customary closing conditions.

SAIC intends to use the net proceeds from this offering of Notes, cash on its balance sheet, borrowings under its credit facility and proceeds from the sale of receivables under its receivable factoring facility to finance the acquisition of substantially all of the assets and liabilities of the Unisys Federal operating unit of Unisys Corporation and to pay related fees and expenses, with any remaining net proceeds being used for general corporate purposes.

The Notes and the related guarantees are being offered and sold to persons reasonably believed to be “qualified institutional buyers” pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and to non-U.S. persons outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act. The Notes and the related guarantees have not been registered for sale under the Securities Act or any state securities laws and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an applicable exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and applicable state laws.

This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the Notes or any other securities, and shall not constitute an offer, solicitation or sale in any state or jurisdiction in which such an offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful. Any offers of the Notes will be made only by means of a private offering memorandum. The Notes being offered have not been approved or disapproved by any regulatory authority, nor has any such authority passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of the applicable private offering memorandum.
